C.C.F. Party Leads Final Session of Model Parliament

Socialized Medicine Is Subject of Discussion

Socialized Medicine for Canada will be thoroughly discussed at the fifth and final session of the Model Parliament in the Union Ball room tonight when the C.C.F. government under the leadership of Premier John A. MacDonald presents a bill to completely reorganize the medical services of the country and make medical services available without fee to every citizen.

An amendment has been introduced by the Progressive Conservatives, who will form the Loyal Opposition under the leadership of Roy Jackson. Liberal and L.P.P. groups will also be sitting on the opposition benches but the latter will be giving support to the government measure.

Attendance at this session is not limited to members of the political clubs and all students are entitled to attend and participate in the question period, the debate and the voting at the end of the evening. Professor J. R. Mallory will be the Speaker. Many students are expected to attend and it is anticipated there will be a large number from the medical faculty.

Advocating that all hospital and medical services, both preventive and curative be taken over by the Government the measure will be introduced to the House by John T. Sangster, minister of health, and other speakers for the government will be John Wolfe, Don Patterson, club president, Cranford Pratt and John A. MacDonald.

Without going into the actual details of the operations, the Progressive Conservative amendment stresses the chief principles, which are that the system should be operated on a voluntary and contributory basis. Health and medical assistance can be achieved through cooperation of the state and the individual according to their amendment. Both the amendment and the bill were published in Tuesday's Daily. Chief speakers for the P.C.'s will be Sherwin Raymond, Roy Jackson and Bob Walker.

Liberal speaker for the evening will be Dave MacKenzie and the L.P.P. speaker will be Alex Aronoff, who is a medical student himself. Eight o'clock is the starting time and the C.C.F. Government will present notices of motion to indicate the measures the C.C.F. feel are needed to remedy the problems that face the country. A question period will follow and then the main debate on the motion followed by a vote which will see the close of the Model Parliament for this academic year.

HOCKEY TICKETS

Students wishing to attend the University of Toronto-McGill hockey game on Saturday night, must pay 25c along with their student athletic coupon. The reason for this is that the game is not sponsored by McGill but rather by the CIAU. Since proceeds go there, the slight nominal fee must be charged.

LPP Amendment

To clause 1 (a) add:

That all existing medical institutions such as hospitals, clinics, etc., be taken over and run by the public authorities established by this act.

That these medical institutions be made available only to such specialists as come into the National Health Service scheme.

That all large-scale pharmaceutical manufacture be on through a Crown Company under the National Health Council.

U of M Elects Student Body President

Jean Guy Decarie of the Faculty of Commerce at the University of Montreal was last night elected President of the Association Generale des Etudiants de l'Universite de Montreal (AGEUM) by the retiring Council. The AGEUM corresponds to our Student Executive Council but elects its President from the Faculty Representatives. Nominations are usually made at the last moment to prevent electioneering, however this year the elections were postponed after the nominations were out.

The position implies a great many responsibilities including personal appearances at various functions such as receptions for delegates and important visitors. The holder of the office exposes himself to the danger of failing his year, and his responsibilities discourage those who would seek the position for prestige, leaving as contenders men of action.

Sports, both on the Campus and on an inter-collegiate basis were favored by almost every candidate, second in some cases to the "Maison des Etudiants" project, the construction of a students Union building. Also favored by the majority of contenders was the expansion of the public relations committee inaugurated last month and an all out drive for publicity.

Running for President and already on this year's council were Florent Terriault, vice-pres., Dentistry; Jean Guy Decarie, Treasurer, Commerce; Andre Lussier, Secretary, Philosophy; Gilles Marchand, Asst. Secret., Architecture.

FOR PRESIDENT of the STUDENTS' SOCIETY

EDWARD M. BALLON
Platform

No University in Canada has as dead a college life as has McGill. True, we have a full program of activities on the campus, but a college program such as ours, so lacking in promotional vigor, is hardly better than none at all. Our Students' Council meticulously attends to the details of passive campus administration—but the vigor and the aggressiveness which we would want in our Council is unhappily all too lacking.

It is on my record that I present myself to the electorate. I ask you to consider this record and to weigh it with those of the other candidates. I ask my fellow students.

HUGH BORSMAN
Platform

What are the essential qualifications of a President of the Students' Society? Ability and energy are primary requisites, but in addition he must be able to appreciate all points of view, and judge every situation on its merits. He must co-ordinate and integrate all campus activities. He must have the respect and co-operation of the duly elected faculty representatives i.e. the Students Executive Council. Without their support his effectiveness is reduced if not removed.

No candidate should make rash promises, but he can express himself on what he believes to be the vital problems of the moment, and give assurance that these problems

MIKE OLIVER
Platform

My program in standing for the position of President of the Students' Society is based on an extension of student democracy and responsible self-government.

If I am returned to office, there are three main recommendations which I shall carry into the Student Executive Council and which I shall endeavor to put into effect, in order to implement these aims and to correct abuses which at present exist at McGill.

First—Racial and religious tolerance are indispensable to democracy, whether on or off the campus. The spirit of cooperation among individuals and groups, of different racial extraction or religious persuasion

DAVE TOWNSEND
Platform

The post of President of the Students' Society requires not only constant attention and administrative ability, but also a complete knowledge of all campus activities which can only be gained through working with campus organizations. The athletic, social, cultural, religious and political fields must be given their proportionate attention. Over-emphasis of one aspect of student life can be injurious to our society.

I believe that with the experience I have gained through participating in various phases of campus life, I am qualified to assume these obligations of office.

Musical Show Next Hillel Production

"By George '47," the second annual review of Hillel productions, will be presented to students of Hillel Foundation at Victoria Hall on Monday, March 10.

Featuring original music and orchestration by Saul Honigman, "By George '47," under the direction of Michael Kogan, promises a wide range of novelty numbers and comedy skits woven around a fast-moving though age-old plot. Script writers Dick Joseph and Jack Shayne, aided by producer-director Kogan, have adapted and streamlined the original script to produce a three-act extravaganza designed to offer the best in light entertainment.

The chorus line, again under the supervision of choreographer Ronny Blackman, includes several girls who have the experience of Red and White Reviews and other musical shows behind them. Highlighted by several new routines, the chorus numbers can be expected to meet with wide audience appeal.

Script-writers Kogan, Shayne and Joseph have put the emphasis on laugh-raising novelty numbers. If rehearsals are any indication the novelty will leave the audience roaring with laughter.

Edith Daniels, Naida Allister and Ben Braiter will sing original songs composed by Saul Honigman.

Tickets for the Monday night show at Victoria Hall can be obtained through Hillel House—phone HA. 9171. The curtain rises at 8.15 p.m.

Will Present "Dear Ruth"

The Players' Club presents its major production of the year in the Union Ballroom next week, March 12 to 15. The play to be produced is Norman Krassna's "Dear Ruth."

The club was unable to obtain Moysse Hall as in former years, so the Ballroom is being used, with a special stage being built for the occasion, under the management of Fred Tees and Alan Williams. The sets were designed by the director, Jack Pinguey, and executed by Sheila Elder and others.

Tickets are on sale now in the Union, at reduced rates for students.

PRE-MED DANCE

Notice
The Pre-Medical Society regrets to announce that due to a conflict with University regulations the annual Pre-Med Dance, scheduled for Saturday, March 7, has had to be cancelled. Two shorts will round off the program; one dealing with the two famous Flemish painters Van Eyck and Memling, with 18th century music supplying the background; while the other is about the organ.

Charity Campaign Features Novel Stunts; More Expected

By PAUL BETTS

The first in the series of novelities intended to bring the McGill Combined Charities Campaign to the attention of every student on the campus took place yesterday, when three mounted riders dressed in the Lincoln green of Robin Hood's merry men distributed leaflets asking students to give generously.

Today, Thursday, and Friday more drastic means will be employed, with habitues of the Union as the principal target. The door to the Union will be barricaded by charming co-eds who will demand as the price of admission five cents from all those who wish to enter. The money so obtained will go toward increasing McGill's contribution to the many agencies benefiting from the drive.

This is only the beginning; many other stunts have been planned. Students may expect almost anything to happen from now until the end of the campaign. The committee of the Red and White Society, which is in charge of planning these publicity stunts, have been hard at work racking their brains for inspiration. It can be expected that more and better stunts will follow.

RCAF Training

All fourth year students in Civil and Mechanical Engineering, who are interested in joining the R.C.A.F. upon graduation, can obtain all details of the term of service for officers from Fl.-Lt. Stanley, who will be in the faculty room of the Engineering building from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. today. He will also be available in the afternoon.

Graduates selected for service will be granted long service commissions—20 years minimum service—and will be trained as either pilots or radio navigators during the early part of their service.

Personal interviews may be arranged by contacting Fl.-Lt. Stanley at 2451 Sherbrooke St. West, or by phoning WE. 1157. This applies to all graduates, veterans and otherwise.

McGill Coeds Visit Dawson

Thursday's Athletics Night at Dawson College, the first event of its kind at St. John's, will be highlighted by the presence of co-eds from the McGill campus. The girls will make the trip in special buses, which will leave the Roddick Gates at 6:30 and 7:30 p.m.

It was announced that in order to let the resident girls get back for 1 a.m. a special bus has been arranged for at Dawson. Tickets for the event are on sale in the Arts Building and at RVC, for the price of 50 cents; this will cover all costs of the evening, including transportation, admission to the games and the dance, and refreshments.

The Westernaires will be on hand to provide the music for the Shown above are the three characters who have been riding around the campus, disguised as Robin Hood's men, as a part of the current Charities' Week campaign. The men handed out leaflets to surprised students on the campus. Further publicity stunt being planned by the Charities' committee is in the form of a leaflet-bombing raid. It is hoped that in this way, students will be encouraged to give—and give generously.

Vote!!

For the past week or so the student body has been the object of a more vigorous election campaign than any seen at McGill for the last few years. Today, the campaigns will be culminated in the election of some of the subjects to the most important executive posts in our structure of student government. However, the point that must be emphasized again and again, is that these leaders must be elected by the student body as a whole; the only way that can be done is for everyone to get out and vote. There is no excuse for not casting your ballot. The polls are situated in the main buildings about the campus and will be open for seven hours.

We have been hearing a good deal of talk about the fact that we are to be the leaders of the next generation. The college youth of today is the hope of mankind tomorrow—or so we are led to believe. There have been many occasions during which we feared for our civilization if it has to depend on us, and there have been others when the future seemed to be in capable hands. Today gives us another opportunity to show our mettle. If we are to be the leaders which we are foreseen to be, then it will be up to us to show that we can think straight and act accordingly.

If we have thought straight, then we have considered all possibilities and qualifications of the nominees for the posts in contest today—not only considered them completely, but in an unbiased manner which will bode well for the future of the campus and its activities. Certainly, there has been enough opportunities to know all about our candidates. The platforms have been run previously in The Daily and are being run once again today for your convenience. There were election meetings in the ballroom and one at Dawson. Only the most ingenious or the most indigent can possibly conceive of a valid excuse for not knowing about the contestants.

The duties incumbent on the top position have similarly been recounted in The Daily's editorial columns yesterday. Remember when you vote that the President of the Students Society is our means of communication with the public as well as with the University; remember, too, that he will preside at general meetings of the Society and at meetings of the Executive Council. It should be held in mind that both the President of the Women's Union and the President of the McGill Union sit on the Executive Council, as well as carrying the responsibility of running their separate organizations.

While not as prominent, but nevertheless very important in considering proper functioning of The Union and athletics are the other posts. If we are to have the full use of the Union building as a temporary home during the day and as a sort of club during the evenings it is up to us to see that we elect men to the Union execu-

THE RED CROSS

The work of the Canadian Red Cross Society during the war years is well known to everyone. Since then the Society has been engaged in a full peace-time program.

The services performed by the Red Cross in Canada and in the war-torn countries of the world are many and varied. Here are some of the chief services made possible in Canada by money subscribed to the Red Cross.

1. The providing of a supply of blood for transfusion to every hospital throughout Canada, so that when a transfusion is necessary, there will be no delay (as there has been in the past) in obtaining the right type of blood for the patient. No charge will be made by any hospital to any patient for the blood or for the transfusion.

2. The provision of a Nursing Service in many of those far distant points in Canada, which now are without a hospital, a doctor or a nurse.

3. Aid to veterans—sick, disabled or needy—including maintenance of hostels to assist relatives visiting them in hospitals, and the provision of all facilities for the teaching of Arts and Crafts in D.V.A. hospitals.

4. Courses in Swimming and Water Safety aimed to cut down the present rate of over 1,000 drownings in Canada each year. The Red Cross Water Safety Instructors' Course is now taught as a regular part of the curriculum in the Department of Physical Education at McGill.

5. Disaster relief, at any time, at any place in Canada. This service brings emergency shelter, food, fuel, clothing and medical aid wherever it is needed.

This work, in addition to the relief work in the war-torn countries of the world, is being carried on with undiminished vigor. It is true to state that the Canadian Red Cross, not only for its war-time accomplishments but for its achievements and plans for peace, is considered by the officers of the other Red Cross Societies of the world to be at the very top in regard to efficiency and vision in carrying out the world-wide Red Cross slogan, namely, in time of peace or war to promote and assist in work for the improvement of health, the prevention of disease and mitigation of suffering.

To carry on this great work, the Red Cross needs the wholehearted support of the people of Canada. This week, you, as students of McGill University, are being given an opportunity to do your share.

Chotem's Concert Exciting

The young Canadian pianist-composer Neil Chotem made his Montreal debut Monday evening playing an exacting program of virtuoso piano music that included the Busoni arrangement of the Bach organ Prelude and Fugue in D major, the Chopin Ballade in F minor, and the Liszt Sonata in B minor.

The dramatic, incredibly difficult Liszt sonata, undoubtedly the major dramatic work of the evening, definitely established, through the superb performance, the fact that this young musician has first-rate pianistic equipment. The amazingly articulate scale passages and the speed of the double octaves are breathtaking accomplishments possessed by only the very greatest virtuosi.

The Bach-Busoni work that opened the program was given a brilliant strong performance. The organ effects came off well, and the bravura passage were almost overpowering in their sonority. This particular work, however, suffered somewhat in the less complicated sections.

The Chopin group consisting of three works in C sharp minor and the Ballade in F minor was on the whole excellent. The C sharp minor etude, although fantastically difficult, looked as though it was child's play and sounded beautiful. The ballade, a little vague at first, developed amazingly and the playing in the last half was superb.

The Tcherenpnie Bagatelles, charming little pieces delightfully played, opened the last group and were followed by a prelude composed by Mr. Chotem. This piece, which is short, consisting of an opening section, a contrasting section, and a return to the opening, has in the first part a lyrical flute-like melody accompanied by unusual chord progressions. In the contrasting section the mood changes and the dramatic movement of low bass chords in quick time works a climax and then, suddenly, the lovely first subject is back. Needless to say, this work was played beautifully. The Ravel Toccata played with incredible dexterity and brilliance brought to an end this very exciting recital.

Mr. Chotem played three encores at the insistence of his enthusiastic audience. The entire performance was broadcast by the CBC International Service to all Latin American countries. J.D.G.

"Biography" Opens Thursday at MRT

S. N. Behrman's satirical comedy, "Biography" which opens a nine performance run at the M.R.T. on Playhouse Thursday has been frequently and favourably compared to Shaw's brilliant "Candida". As in "Candida", the central figure of "Biography" is a wise and charming woman at the apex of a triangle involving an intense young writer and an appealing if somewhat stuffy older man. Moreover, the main appeal of both plays lies in their scintillating dialogue, their warm characterizations, and their general air of wise detachment and civilized tolerance.

It is interesting to note that both Herbert Whitacker, who is directing "Biography" for M.R.T., and Betty Wilson, who is playing the lead, were engaged in similar capacities for last summer's successful revival of "Candida".

Those who are interested in the positions and who will work to better the facilities at our disposal. The representative to the Advisory Athletics Board has the duty of presenting student views on matters of policy in the realm of athletics on the campus. The job needs a man who has not only a knowledge of athletics but a sincere desire for its betterment at McGill.

There is only one chance at our disposal. Let us not be sorry next year that we did not take advantage of the privilege offered us today. Vote.—A. K.

McGill Debaters At U. of Vermont

By Rolland LaPrairie

This past week-end, something new was written into our debating annals, when McGill University participated in its first debating tournament as guests of the University of Vermont in Burlington. The McGill delegation consisted of Miss Hemlow and Mr. John Dando as faculty critics and judges, Isadore Rosenfeld and Boris Berbrer as executive representatives, and Ann Ryan, Joy Ballon, Margaret Shwartz, Vivian Epstein, Jon Ballon, Bill Tetley, Hugh Banfill, Don Coates, Bill Jones and yours truly, Rolland LaPrairie.

Early Friday morning, McGill debaters gathered at the local bus terminal, all slightly worn due to the last-minute "brush-up" the previous evening on the pros and cons of "Resolved that labor should be given a direct share in the management of industry." As the sleek Greyhound drove towards the border, the rear half of the bus became an open forum. A dozen McGill debaters voiced their negative and affirmative arguments, and the climax was reached when someone suggested asking the bus driver what he thought. He was all in favor of giving labor a direct share in the management of industry.

U. of M. Features Duo-Pianists

TILA and JOHN MONTES, of Argentina, duo pianists, "Two of the most prominent interpreters of modern music," (Anbruch, Vienna) will be present in the "Salle des Fêtes de l'Université de Montreal" by "La Société Artistique de l'Association Generale des Etudiants de l'Université de Montreal" tomorrow March 6th, at 8.30 p.m.

These great artists received their musical training in Germany, Austria and Poland and perfected their study of piano with Robert Teichmüller at the Conservatory of Leipzig. Concert appearances in Europe earned for them a reputation as outstanding artists. In South America they presented almost every major work written for two pianos in more than 100 concerts, concentrating their appearances in Buenos Aires. A concert with the Teatro Colon Orchestra of that city under the direction of Fritz Busch marked the culmination of their career in South America previous to their North American debut in Town Hall, New York, on February 12, 1947. One of their chief interests is the interpretation of the works of modern composers, particularly those of Argentina. McGill students are cordially invited to attend.

LETTER FORUM

Dear Sir,—

This is to let the student body know that the undermentioned committee has done all in its power to "HELP THE SEC KEEP THE CAMPUS CLEAN". We would like to make it clear that we are not responsible for the fact that a number of balloons now clutter up the tree tops close to the Roddick Gates.

The balloons were let loose by an irresponsible individual, who no doubt felt, that this was the best he could do, in view of the fact that his own candidate did not have enough faith in his own program to campaign on his own.

HAROLD GOLDFARB,
Chairman,
The Gil Rosenberg Election Committee.

Dear Sir:

We, the undersigned members of the Students' Athletic Council, refute the accusation made at last night's election meeting and directed at Mr. Ballon that "your council is a one-man show."

We do hereby state that co-operation and guidance has always been forthcoming from the chair.

Music Notes

LOYONNET

The second in the series of three recitals of Beethoven sonatas by the eminent French pianist, Loyonnet, presented last night at the Gesu Hall, was, if such a thing is conceivable, an even greater musical triumph than the first recital.

M. Loyonnet presented three of the most renowned of the 32 sonatas, the "Waldstein" or "Aurore", Op. 53, the "Appassionata", Op. 57, and the sonata in F major, Op. 78.

A complete review of the three recitals will appear in Friday's Daily following the last one.

Undoubtedly the foremost musical event of the season, M. Loyonnet's recital Thursday should not be missed by any music lover. On the program are the "Les Adieux" sonata, Op. 81a, and the sonatas Op. 109 and Op. 111. If the previous recitals are to be held as a criterion for the remaining one to come, these great works will receive meticulous, exciting, unforgettable performances. M. Loyonnet does not at all times follow the most minute instruction of the composer exactly, but the frank sincerity of his interpretations cannot but be admired and respected. One again—Make it a point not to miss this great French musician's understanding and sympathetic performance of three of Beethoven's greatest works for the pianoforte.

CCF CLUB

The final meeting of the year will be held, Thursday at 1 o'clock in the Union Music Room. Important amendments to the constitution will be discussed and voted on. Elections for the executive posts will be held. This is a very important meeting and every member is urged to be present. P.S.—Don't forget the Model Parliament tonight.

The Movies

AT THE PRINCESS

Errol Flynn takes a new type of role in the current presentation at the Princess Theatre, "Never Say Goodbye". The swaggering hero of so many adventure movies actually turns comedian and does a very good job at it. Mr. Flynn spends the picture chasing his ex-wife and his daughter, and finally with the help of the largest marine this reviewer has ever seen, they are reunited in wedded bliss. Eleanor Parker as the wife, and Patti Brady as the daughter both show a very good flair for comedy, playing with a humorous light touch.

Dawson Faces Migos in M. B. L. Playoffs Tomorrow

McGill Replacements To Bolster Weakened St. Johns Crew

Tomorrow night sees a changed but undaunted Dawson aggregation begin their quest of the MBL title as they take on the Migos in the opening game of the playoffs at the Currie gymnasium.

SOMMERS COACH
Revamped after the departure of most of the first stringers due to study, the Blue and Red coached by Red Sommers will be put to hand the Shrimmen a defeat in the opener of the best of three series. Aiding them in their victory quest will be three of the McGill regulars in the personages of Moffat, Davine and Shacter. These coupled with Zunder, Forcand, Keele and others, assure that the team will be an unknown and untied factor in the playoffs. However the will to win seems to be a very predominant factor and is as likely as not to tip the scales in favor of the Dawson crew.

MIGOS STRONG
However Coach Malls' crew cannot be discounted and a rough evening might very easily await the invading St. Johns team. Such men as Pete Finlay, Mendy Morcin, Ron Wilson, the league's leading scorer, and Sid Strulovitch are liable to break out in a rash of baskets as not.

Whatever the final outcome, basketball at Dawson has proved that the calibre of basketball to be found in the university ranks with the best in the city. The team that carries the colors now is composed of men who are out to redeem the pledge made at the beginning of the year that if Dawson made the playoffs they would continue, until victorious or eliminated.

Throughout the year paced by the Taylor brothers and Charlie Goldbloom, Dawson smeared all comers with the exception of the YMHA. Now the shoe may be on the other foot but the Dawsonians are showing that they are willing to take it—if a better team exists.

McGill Gliders Hold Meeting March 17th
In spite of any statements made by Toronto University there are other gliding clubs in Canada. The one right here at McGill is the oldest university gliding club in the country.

Its members flew all last summer without any accidents and have turned out about 7 qualified glider pilots with "A" Certificates and 5 with "B" Certificates. The club is now getting ready to start what they intend shall be a bigger and better season this spring, and welcomes anyone interested in gliding and soaring to a general meeting on March 17 in the Union Ballroom at 8:00 p.m. This meeting will enable you to find out more about this thrilling sport. There will be films on gliding, and speakers who are experts at the sport.

Most of the frames have been cut and one boat is nearly ready to have its plywood skin put on. McGill Hoopsters End Season Facing Western, Varsity Fives
While the hockey team finishes off its season fighting for the cherished title, the McGill basketball team will be putting the finishing touches to their league play as they face what is known as suicide week-end.
WESTERN, FRIDAY
Friday night the Redmen seeking to clinch second place travel to London, Ontario where they meet the already-crowned champions the Western Mustangs. In their last meeting on the McGill floor, the purple and white eked out a narrow 41-36 victory. The big Red machine will be out to hand the Mustangs their first defeat in the last three years of intercollegiate play. Such big guns as Phibbs, Wearing and Scorgie will have to be silenced and Coach Davies feels that if his team is hot they might easily upset the old appraiser.
TORONTO SATURDAY.
After a good-night of sleep the team heads over to Toronto where they face their chief opponents for the second place slot. In the first meeting of these crews it was a complete McGill victory as Mayzell, Zeaton and Cranham failed to penetrate the effective McGill zone defence. This time again, the hopes of the McGill supporters are pinned on Duford, Davidson and Hoyle and company to pull through with a victory.
This completes the 1946-47 season for the basketball squad—one of the most active in the history of the spot at the university. With first place already acquired by the Western team, the Redmen will be out to take over second place and let the chips fall where they may.

Davidon, Phibbs Scorgie High Hoop Scorers
The fourth weekly Daily compilation of Basketball scoring results, now shows Davidon, of McGill tied for first place with Scorgie and Phibbs, both of Western. However Western still sports the majority of top scorers with Wearing tied for second place with Mayzell of Toronto. Davidon's rise to the upper brackets may be credited to his 17 points netted in the Queen's McGill game Saturday.
MAYZELL TOPS
Mayzell is top man for Toronto, and while Price now heads the list for Queen's. A complete scoring summary is as follows:

	G.	A.	Tot.
Gignac, U. of M.	11	5	16

Dawson Holds Sports Jamboree In Drill Hall Thursday Evening
Thursday night will see the Dawson Drill Hall come to life when their eighth and final Athletics Night gets under way at eight o'clock. Dawson is going "all out" for this affair and it promises to be the highlight of the season.
McGILL COEDS
The entree will be the arrival of the McGill Coeds, which should prove a delightful appetizer for any male. Arrangements have been made for the Coeds' transportation, and it is hoped that the girls will not let their brothers at St. Johns down.
The main course will be the name implies be composed of athletics. The Dawson Senior Basketball team will present a large part of the entertainment when it clashes with Sir George Williams in an exhibition tilt. Studies have cramped the style of many of the regular Dawson line-up so that there will be many new hoopsters supporting the Red and Blue, but these boys will be filled with the fire of their predecessors and this promises to be a thrilling tilt.

Other sports to be featured will be Table Tennis, at which time the Dawson boys will play the finals of their tournament. The St. John's boys are noted for their fast and furious ping pong, among other things, and this will provide some great entertainment to table tennis fans. In addition their will be a first class gymnastic display, and much timing and precision may be witnessed on the mats by any interested.
After the competitive sports are over, desert and refreshment will be in the form of dancing, when the St. John's boys will have the chance to trip the light fantastic with the R.V.C. Coeds to the strains of the Westernaires.

Sinclair Returns to McGill Lineup for Crucial Playoff Tilt

Boarding, slashing, tripping and general rough and tumble featured yesterday's hockey practice and Dave Campbell took it all in with a big smile. Big Doug Heron put the reason for such conduct in a nutshell when he remarked after the practice:

"It's easy to see that Sinclair is back".
Reg Sinclair attended the first practice session since he was forced to retire from the Yale game last December. He came back with the same old fighting spirit and, judging from his play yesterday, he has been saving it up all winter for he had plenty left over when the practice came to an end.
Coach Campbell hopes to use Sinclair this coming Saturday against the invading Varsity Blues but he isn't yet sure that Reg will be in shape for the type of hockey that is likely to take place.

ALPHONSE AND GASTON
Both Varsity and McGill teams are getting a little tired of the Alphonse and Gaston act that they have been putting on during the last couple of weeks. First it was McGill who handed the prize to Ace Bailey's club. Then the Torontonians dropped a decision to the Gals as if to say "No, you take it McGill". Last Saturday night McGill tossed Varsity another chance by failing to overcome Carabins.

According to the rules of etiquette, it is Varsity's turn to give it to McGill but Dave Campbell is entertaining no such hopes. Profiting by the experience of the last Varsity-McGill game, Dave is busy these days trying to figure out new ways for his forwards to shake those determined Toronto checkers who held our boys to two goals last time.

SAME TACTICS
Ace Bailey is expected to adopt similar tactics at the next meeting because of the success his team enjoyed two weeks ago. However, McGill will come up with something new to catch the Torontonians napping.
Meanwhile, the locals are holding daily practices and so far it looks as though they will be at full strength for the week-end tussle which will decide, once and for all, the Intercollegiate title for 1947.

TWO PRACTICES
This is the opening week and Coach Obeck signified his intention of starting slowly. "This week I'm only calling one practice," he said. "From here on in we will have two practices weekly." All this adds up to plenty of football for the players so that by the time next fall rolls around the chances of McGill having a well-rounded team seem very good indeed.

Nor is the coach neglecting the boys out Dawson way. A week from Thursday, he will make a trip out there to line up all the available talent there. To quote from a Dawson report "There may be so many Dawsonites on the team Obeck can find a room in St. Johns and have McGillites Commute."

Whether this is gross exaggeration or not it all adds up that the football bug has bitten the campus and the final result might well be the dream of all McGill students — a team out on the field that will rank favorably in comparison with any squad in Intercollegiate football.

either the advancement or the obstruction of democratic ideals.

In order that fraternities may be encouraged to promote racial and religious tolerance at McGill and to stamp out any existing discrimination within their own ranks, I propose that all fraternities whose membership comprises students of McGill University be officially recognized by the student body, that their constitutions be published and approved by the S.E.C. and that they be required to obtain ratification of the S.E.C. for any outside affiliation.

I further call on the fraternities to show their good will by assenting to these proposals and thus assuming a position similar to all other organizations on the campus.

Second—To a large proportion of students, employment is a subject of paramount importance. A Student Employment Service is shortly to be set up, and I propose that students have adequate representation on the policy-making body and in the administration of this organization.

Third—Students as a whole should have an active part in solving the problems that exist in the Athletics Department, and I shall call for the guarantee of an effective voice for students in administration of the Athletics organization.

On this platform, drawn up by a cross-section of McGill undergraduates, it is my intention to carry on an active and open campaign for election as President of the Student Society. If you support the platform, I ask you to vote for it and for me. If you disagree, then by all means vote against me. But above all—VOTE, ON MARCH 5TH!

the Athletics Council, and the Athletics Board, and if elected, I will continue to work with the investigating committees, and for a better understanding between the Athletics Department and the students. Also, I believe that students should be given the best of facilities and competent coaching, as well as a broad program to insure that every student will have an opportunity to participate in a sport.

Other factors in this field which demand attention are the McGill Band, and the question of cheerleaders. The band must be immediately re-vitalized, so that by next fall, McGill will have a band of which the students can be proud, and one in which the members will enjoy working. The question of women cheerleaders, I believe, will be settled by the beginning of next fall.

In the other phases of campus activity, which come under the Students' Council, there are several items which must be remedied. There is a definite need for a political forum on the campus, one open to all students and featuring discussion by every party. It should not have the "party-voting" of the Model Parliament nor the decision basis of argument in debating. Open forums, with visiting speakers and frank discussion would lead to a better understanding, and much less disunity and bickering on the campus.

NFCUS is a basically sound and feasible organization. During the past two years, it has slowly recovered from the effects of the war, and now, it should be in a position to accomplish something for the students. I will endeavor to make that organization justify itself, and do something for the campus.

Dawson students' affairs are now almost independent of the parent body, and I am satisfied that that policy should be continued. The athletics and other programs would be given free scope, and in many cases, must be in direct competition with McGill.

Other important items which require attention are the McGill Daily, the Radio Committee (presently in its infant stage), and the Red and White Revue, which was forced to charge high prices to the students due to financial difficulties.

Having been on the Student's Council for the past year, I realize the necessity for co-operation with that group at all times.

If elected, I feel confident that with the experience that I have in campus organizations, I shall be able to fulfill the trust of those who have nominated me.

STUDENT LABOUR CLUB

Next Monday at 5 p.m. in the Union Ballroom the McGill Student Labour Club is holding a meeting at which Mr. Robert H. Haddow will talk on the subject of organized labour in Quebec.

Mr. Haddow is the Canadian Director of Organization of the International Fur and Leather Workers' Union (C.I.O.). At the present time he is organizing a Boot and Shoe Workers' Union here in Montreal, and will thus be able to give McGill students a first hand account of the difficulties facing organized labour at the present time in Quebec.

This will be the last open meeting of the S.L.C. for this term and anyone interested is invited to attend.

He is a man of great experience and an outstanding scholar in philosophy and theology as well as in the field of social sciences. We feel that he has much to say not only to S.C.M.-ers, but to all students. His topic will be: "The unity of the human race". The meeting will be held at the S.C.M. House, 3574 University street. Bring your lunch or come at 1.30 sharp. This invitation is very cordially extended to all McGill students.

dents to consider election promises, but only in the light of proven ability to execute those promises.

a) I would reorganize the band and provide some incentive for playing in the band. Bandmen would receive Council-provided suppers at every practice; there would be co-ed musicians in the band; and a co-ed drum majorette.

b) I would see the dates committee no longer as a passive group juggling dates, but as an aggressive group which would ensure informal dances every Friday and Saturday night of the college year, and well-balanced activity through the week.

c) I would initiate an annual Winter Carnival at McGill University on the same scale as the Dartmouth Carnival.

d) I would urge a canteen in the gymnasium and an inexpensive restaurant in the rink-auditorium.

e) I would interfere in no way with the Dawson Executive Council, who run their campus far better than we do here in Montreal. However, no assistance or co-operation would be withheld if this were requested from St. Johns.

f) I would see our intercollegiate and intra-mural athletic activities comparable with those at Yale, a plan which I know definitely within our scope.

g) I would set up a date bureau which would help to make out-of-town undergraduates feel more at home.

h) I would see our Model Parliament further encouraged as a democratic medium for the exchange of political opinions.

i) I would tolerate no discrimination of any kind, nor on the other hand any unrepresentative pressures.

j) I would urge one Athletics Night a month, the formation of a student symphonic orchestra, and a lively freshman initiation.

k) I would continue to press for the athletic reorganization which we so sadly need at McGill. Having been one of the students who drafted the proposed set-up now being considered by the Senate, I feel that as President of the Students' Society I would be in a unique position to argue on its behalf.

I would further pledge myself to unbiased chairmanship of Council matters.

would be pursued actively. They are I believe as follows: Athletics—

A Senate committee and sub-committee are at present investigating possible re-organization of the confused athletic set-up. A report is pending so that until its content be made known it would be untimely to clamour for changes that may be forthcoming. If the new proposals do not give full recognition to student and graduate demands then, as in the past, I will continue to strongly press for return of athletic control to an Athletic Board of Control and the provision for a new and vigorous athletic policy here at McGill.

Dawson—As Dawson is an important part of the University, it is essential that closer links be established and maintained between the two campuses. Specifically I suggest:

(1) Dawson College executive council be invited to send a voting member to the weekly meetings of the S.E.C. in Montreal. The constitution should be amended to permit this at the first possible moment.

(2) A voting member be invited to the bimonthly meetings of the Students' Athletic Council. (The expenses of both delegates to be borne by the Montreal group.)

(3) McGill Intercollegiate teams should play some games at Dawson College, thus giving students there incentive to play for, and support McGill first teams. In addition McGill coaches should make regular visits to Dawson and improved methods must be found for enabling Dawson students to practise and play with McGill teams.

Student Loans — Veterans loans are meeting urgent needs, but general student loans are at present inadequate. I believe an immediate investigation should be made to study establishing at McGill an adequate loan fund. This could be made up of refundable contributions from graduates and perhaps some students. My enquiries amongst graduates revealed considerable interest, and an assurance of generous contribution. The fund would be administered jointly by the University and the S.E.C. It could probably be instituted with little delay.

Veterans — As long as problems peculiar to veterans continue to exist, the Students' Veterans Society should continue to receive full support from the S.E.C.

Discrimination: Discrimination should be combatted whenever and wherever it exists, whether practised by the university, university residences, campus clubs and societies or fraternities. Specific charges should be investigated by the S.E.C. and full reports published. Discrimination can only be stopped by education and example but not by coercion. The various religious groups on the campus should be encouraged and given every support toward this end by the student body and the S.E.C.

susion, is an essential part not only of democratic government on the national level but of student democracy on the campus.

That such a spirit is not more prevalent at McGill is, in my opinion, largely the result of the nature of our fraternities, many of whom have secret constitutions and most of whom practise racial or religious discrimination, both in their membership and in their affiliations with other groups.

It is obvious that fraternities, because of their well-developed organization and their prestige, wield an enormous influence on the campus. It is equally apparent that this influence may be directed toward
